

The Web AlphaServer family for Windows NT

When you're ready to get serious about the Intranet, get a Digital Web AlphaServer for Windows NT

Packaged Windows NT Web AlphaServer systems combine with Digital AlphaServer power to give you a commanding presence on the World Wide Web.

The Internet is open for business, and now Digital helps you establish a marketing presence on the World Wide Web with a complete family of fully configured, Internet-application ready Windows NT™ Web servers. Combining Windows NT ease-of-use with Digital Alpha processing power and industry-leading Web server software, Web AlphaServer™ for Windows NT systems give you everything you need to publish on the Internet, create an Intranet, or enhance your corporate network LANs. Whether you are just getting started or you need a robust, high-availability server, the Web AlphaServer family for Windows NT is ready for you.

Benefits

- Increase revenue, shorten sales cycles, and reduce cost-of-sale by doing business on the World Wide Web
- Decrease time-to-market and time-to-channel with preconfigured Web servers — providing everything you need to create home pages

- Sharpen your competitive edge with the first RISC-based Windows NT Web server solution in the industry
- Provide better customer service with superior Alpha system performance and reliability
- Reduce user support costs with online conferencing and collaboration
- Reduce development and maintenance costs by integrating Web servers for Windows NT into existing PC LAN environments
- No learning curve — users continue to use the familiar Windows NT environment
- High-availability configurations available to support mission-critical applications
- Backed by the industry's best hardware warranty and software support

Web AlphaServer 1000